

Echoes of the day...

Friday 14th December 2012
Special Issue—Behind the Scene

Nice Project—The story Behind

Nice project would not have been a success without the commitment of those working behind the scene. This special issue pays tribute to their valuable contribution in the Nice project.

PRIME MINISTER'S OFFICE

Prime Minister's Office is responsible in initiating and implementing the project at national level. This pilot project initially involves 200 students. It will be extended to all schools in the near future. The Government Programme 2012 – 2015 has spelt out in clear words its priority to set up a National Institute in Civic Education which will have as prime mission to use the knowledge, skills and virtues of our nation to further develop our capacity to sustain the socio economic development in the process of nation building.

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN RESOURCES

The role of the Ministry is to empower students to develop the necessary qualities to make them become responsible and proud citizens of this country and above all real patriots. The IT department of the Ministry has set up and monitored the da-base of students and educators

MAURITIUS INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION

The MIE wants to give a holistic dimension to education. In the light of this, much is being done through the project to tap hidden talents, to inculcate values, strengthen unity in diversity and above all foster pride in being Mauritian.

POLICE FORCE

The police is ensuring security of one and all. Police officers are also present at different pick-up points. Access to the venue is controlled and parking facilities are available.

nice About the Project

It is a government project where different stakeholders are involved. The mission of the government is to move the nation forward by nurturing citizens for a better life. The targeted groups are students and educators. The vision is to have a civic education club in all schools which will propagate the civic sense and what the youth need to know to grow up into responsible citizens.

Nu pays nu fierté!

Educators Team

Handling 200 youths is not an easy task, yet this has been done to perfection by the team of educators present for the NICE project.

The Secretariat Team

The Secretariat was the heart and soul as far as the day to day running of the project was concerned. Liaison officers are ensuring perfect coordination for the smooth running of the all the activities

Newsletter Team

MIE Staff

Kaviraj Goodoory
Mangala Jawaheer

MIE Trainees

Aurelie Mikale
Ayesha Fakeerbacus
Sharvin Pursoty

Technical Support

Rajen Koylessur

NICE Journalists

Sangeeta Varma – Seewa Bappoo SSS

Kavita Varma – Loreto College Rose-Hill

Chan Yow Fee Shin Shin– Droopnath
Ramphul State College

Toosharnath Deaal-Rabindranath Tagore
Secondary School

We are on the Web!

<http://www.mie.ac.mu>

This newspaper has been produced by NICE participants under the guidance of MIE staff and trainees.

The Media Team

The media team through newsletters, auto-collage and clips shared the days events and also ensured that participants were kept updated .

MINISTRY OF YOUTH AND SPORTS

The Ministry of Youth and Sports values this programme of Civic Education for young people and has brought its contribution at different levels.

THE SARO TEAM

Sir Abdool Raman Osman State College has been chosen to house the project. Once the venue was identified, the general cleaning and upgrading work were initiated. Different stakeholders made sure that no stone was left unturned to see to look into the readiness of the premises.

TRANSPORT

Vans pick up and drop participants at identified locations around the island.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND QUALITY OF LIFE

An ambulance stands by from morning till afternoon to attend to any emergency.

The Ministry is also responsible for monitoring the catering service.

.A first aid team is also present on the premises of SARO

CATERING SERVICE

The catering team made sure that all the participants got food and refreshment at appropriate intervals of the day

QUOTE OF THE DAY

The call of the land had, at last, reached our hearts. Let us chime the melody of our love for Mauritius in our thoughts, words, and actions.

Mohun Ujoodha